Bible Reading Plan 2026

If we are to grow in our knowledge and love of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, there is no substitute for reading, studying, memorizing, and meditating on God's Word. Hebrews 4:12 teaches us that the Word of God is living and active. Therefore, we want to encourage each other to dig into God's Word every day. An annual Bible reading plan is a great tool for doing just that.

This specific Bible reading plan lasts one year and is divided into morning and evening readings. Each morning reading includes a reading from a Psalm and from the Old Testament. Each evening reading includes a reading from a Psalm and the New Testament. Over the span of the year, those who follow the plan will read the New Testament and each of the Psalms three times, and half of the Old Testament. (The other half of the Old Testament will be read in next year's plan.) Sundays are left free for deeper reflection and to catch up on any passages you missed throughout the week.

While this plan has identified readings for the evening and morning, the readings of course can be read all in one sitting or at a time that works best for you. If you choose to use the morning/evening structure, you might also consider doing your Bible readings within the context of Morning and Evening Prayer. You can find an order for daily Morning and Evening Prayer on pages 34 & 37. If you're unsure about whether to use the morning/evening structure – as a word of encouragement, doing so can be a really helpful tool to shape the whole of your day in a Godcentered way.

As we seek to pursue more frequent and purposeful reading as a church, here are a few additional thoughts:

- There is no "right" reading plan. Everyone is different. If the structure of this plan doesn't work for you, find another that does. If you already have a plan that works for you, stick with that one.
- Read, study, memorize, and meditate. Not one or the other, but all of the above.
- Reading is not the goal. Beware of the tendency to make reading the end as if you have done your daily duty when you rise from your chair. Seeing, knowing, loving, and obeying Christ is the goal of all study.
- If you fall behind, just keep running.
 Don't give up or give in to condemnation.
- It will take work and discipline. Think strategically. Be intentional.
- Read these thoughts on 'How to Study the Bible' on page 6

May we as the people of Christ Church NYC be a people who keep, store, declare, delight in, meditate on, remember, long for, set ourselves upon, cling to, observe, trust in, seek after, love, turn to, believe in, hope in, consider, rejoice in, incline to, and pant for the gift of God's Word to us that is the Scriptures (Psalm 119).

^{}The format of the NT readings usually calls for the same three chapters in three consecutive days. Thus, if you wish to shorten the NT reading, you can simply read through one chapter a day instead of three chapters a day. That will allow you to still read through the whole of the NT at least once a year.

Thoughts on how to study the Bible

PRAY

Pray and ask the Lord to give you guidance and help in understanding His Word. God makes many promises in the Bible about the effectiveness of His Word. Every time you read the Bible, consider praying one of the following promises: Psalm 119:18; Isaiah 55:10-11; Hebrews 4:12.

MEDITATE

If you have time, read through the passage multiple times. The goal is to really meditate on a passage, or, if it's a long passage, to mediate on perhaps just a verse or two in the passage. Meditation is one of the keys to really working God's Word into our lives and into our prayers.

THINK IT OUT

Don't jump immediately to application, but first consider the context and original meaning. Ask questions like:

- To whom was this originally written?
- Why was it written to them?
- How does it fit with the verses before and after it?
- · How does it fit within the Bible as a whole?
- Why did the Holy Spirit include this passage in this book or letter?
- What is the Holy Spirit intending to communicate through this passage?
- · What does this passage teach me about God?
- What does this passage teach me about human beings?

THINK IT IN

Now you can think more deeply about personal application and how you will respond to God's Word. Remember: we don't want to simply be hearers of the Word, but doers of the Word (James 1:22). Ask questions like:

- What does this mean today?
- What would the application of this passage or verse look like in my own life?
- What is God saying to me? Why might God be showing me this at this particular time?
- · How should I respond?
 - o Is there an example here I should follow, or a command to be obeyed, or a warning to be heeded, or a promise to be claimed?
 - o What does this passage teach me about God for which I should praise Him?
 - o What does this passage teach me about sin for which I should repent?
 - o How does the gospel impact the way I understand and apply this passage?
 - o If I really believed and trusted what God's Word says here, how would my life be different?

JOURNAL

Consider keeping a journal as you think through some of these things. In your journal consider writing out one or two verses from the passage that are particularly meaningful to you, a few sentences explaining what they mean, and then the ways that you will seek with God's help to respond and apply that passage to your life.

THINK IT UP

Pray. Turn what you have read into prayer. The A.C.T.S acronym is a good way to remember the points in prayer to cover – Adoration, Confession, Thanksgiving, Supplication. Be sure to let your Bible reading guide and shape the way you pray.

And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever.

An Order for Daily Prayer

THE BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER

In the pages that follow, you will find an outline for prayer for both the morning and the evening that can be used individually, within family worship, or among small groups. The essential structure comes from the Anglican Book of Common Prayer (BCP) – though the content and length have been modified.

If you're not familiar with the BCP, it was developed by Thomas Cranmer during the Protestant Reformation – thus providing churches with a specifically English prayer book. It has for centuries provided Christians with a Bible-saturated and gospel-centered resource to help them worship and pray to God. When we walk through this liturgy, we are reminded of our sin, pointed to the grace of Jesus, and invited to respond in gratitude and faith. Thus, the pattern of the BCP is the very pattern of the Christian life.

PRAYER AND BIBLE READING

We recommend you use this in conjunction with the CCNYC daily Bible reading plan starting on page 8 or on our website. We hope that using these two resources together - Daily Prayer and Daily Bible Reading - will provide you with a rich devotional resource as you seek to grow in your love for and obedience to the Lord Jesus Christ.

WEEKLY COLLECTS

One of the strengths of the BCP is the weekly Collects that are included. A "collect" is simply a prayer meant to gather the intentions of the people and the focus of worship into a succinct prayer that is theologically dense. All of the Collects more or less fit a pattern that was developed and perfected by Cranmer: (1) there is an address to God that highlights an aspect of His character; (2) there is a request made to Him in light of that characteristic; (3) there is a desired invocation and doxology connected to the request; (4) and it is all in the name of Jesus.

Every Sunday at CCNYC we pray the Collect for that particular week. On page 40 is a listing of all those Collects for the whole year. The intention is that you would take the appropriate Collect for the week and pray it every day that week during Morning Prayer.

A FINAL WORD

One final word of instruction and encouragement: it will take discipline, but the shaping influence this kind of morning/evening structure can have is significant as we seek to be formed into God's distinct people in this world. And remember: the goal isn't merely to recite rote words every day. The goal is to let these biblically rich and Godcentered prayers teach you how to pray better. Thus, as you pray these words, let it lead you into further prayer prayer that comes from your own heart and is in your own words.

Morning Prayer

OPENING SENTENCES

The Lord is in his holy temple, Let all the earth keep silence before him. (Habakkuk 2:20)

CONFESSION OF SIN

Most merciful God, we confess that we have sinned against you in thought, word, and deed, by what we have done, and by what we have left undone. We have not loved you with our whole heart; we have not loved our neighbors as ourselves. We are truly sorry and we humbly repent. For the sake of your Son Jesus Christ, have mercy on us and forgive us; that we may delight in your will, and walk in your ways, to the glory of your Name. Amen.

Silence for reflection and/or continued personal confession

ASSURANCE OF FORGIVENESS

If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (1 John 1:9)

Almighty Father, who gave your dearly beloved Son to die for us because of your great love: Grant that through his cross our sins may be put away and remembered no more, and that cleansed by his blood and mindful of his sufferings, we may take up our cross daily and follow him in newness of life, until we come to his everlasting kingdom; through your Son Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THANKSGIVING

As we rejoice in the gift of this new day, so may the light of your presence, O God, set our hearts on fire with love for you; now and forever. Amen.

MORNING PSALM

APOSTLES' CREED

I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth.

I believe in Jesus Christ, God's only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried; he descended to the dead.

On the third day he rose again; he ascended into heaven, he is seated at the right hand of the Father, and he will come again to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy catholic* church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. Amen.

PRAYER

In the morning, pray for:

- · the day and its tasks
- the world and its needs
- the church and her life

Conclude with the Lord's Prayer and/or the Collect of the week:

See the weekly Collects (Prayers) provided from page 40

GRACE

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, be with us all evermore. Amen.

This liturgy is adapted from The Book of Common Prayer (1662)

^{*} The 'catholic church' is the totality of God's people through the ages who hold firm to the classic teachings of Christ's apostles.
